The musical score is written on a single page and consists of several systems of staves. The first system includes a vocal line and a piano accompaniment. The piano part is written in grand staff notation (treble and bass clefs). The second system continues the piano accompaniment. The third system shows a change in the piano part, with a new melodic line in the right hand. The fourth system continues this new piano part. The fifth system shows a change in the piano part, with a new melodic line in the right hand. The sixth system continues this new piano part. The seventh system shows a change in the piano part, with a new melodic line in the right hand. The eighth system continues this new piano part. The score is written in a clear, legible hand.

This is a handwritten musical score for piano and voice, consisting of eight systems of staves. The notation includes notes, rests, and dynamic markings such as mp and mf. The score is written in a key signature of one flat (B-flat) and a 3/8 time signature. The first system shows a vocal line with a melodic phrase and piano accompaniment. The second system features a piano introduction with a blue highlight under a melodic line in the right hand. The third system continues the piano accompaniment with a melodic line in the right hand and a bass line in the left hand. The fourth system shows a vocal line with a melodic phrase and piano accompaniment. The fifth system features a piano introduction with a melodic line in the right hand and a bass line in the left hand. The sixth system continues the piano accompaniment with a melodic line in the right hand and a bass line in the left hand. The seventh system shows a vocal line with a melodic phrase and piano accompaniment. The eighth system features a piano introduction with a melodic line in the right hand and a bass line in the left hand. The score is written on aged paper with some staining and a page number at the bottom.
